

Jill Fine

*Head, North America Credit Research
UBS Asset Management*

Jill Fine is the Head of North American Credit Research and is responsible for the day-to day-management of the North American analyst team, which covers Investment Grade, High Yield and Money Market investment mandates. In addition, Jill is responsible for Investment Grade and High Yield analysis of North American financial institutions, including large cap banks, finance companies and insurance companies. In this capacity, Jill performs fundamental credit analysis and makes investment recommendations at the issuer and industry levels. Additionally, Jill is the Insurance Industry Coordinator and works with members of the global analyst team to formulate global sector views and investment ideas. Prior to her current roles, Jill worked as a credit research analyst covering select U.S. and European financials and the automotive sector, also at UBS Asset Management. Jill started her career at UBS Asset Management in 1998 as a dedicated Money Market Analyst covering global financials. Prior to joining UBS Asset Management, Jill was an Investment Banking Analyst at PaineWebber, Inc.

Years of investment industry experience: 25

Education: Columbia University (US), BA