

Ann Miletti

Head of Active Equity

Allspring Global Investments

Ann Miletti is head of Active Equity at Wells Fargo Asset Management (WFAM). In this capacity, she oversees all active equity teams at WFAM, including management of investment professionals, trading activity, and other business-related issues.

Prior to her current role, she was co-lead of the PMV Equity team managing more than $4 billion in assets. Ann began her investment industry career in 1991 at Strong Capital Management, which Wells Fargo later acquired in 2005. Throughout her career, Ann has covered most industry sectors as an equity research analyst and portfolio manager.

Ann is a frequent guest on a number of financial networks, including CNBC, Bloomberg, and Fox Business News. She earned a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.