

Marina Fayerberg

Vice President

State Street Global Advisors

Marina Fayerberg is a vice president of State Street Global Advisors and a member of the firm's Global Product Group. In this role, she is responsible for high-impact strategic initiatives, management business reviews, and commercialization efforts. In addition, Fayerberg is a member of the Sub-Advisory Oversight Committee and the Independent Fiduciary Committee. Previously, she was a member of the Chief Operating Office for the Investment Management Group, which is responsible for the oversight of portfolio management, ensuring process and operational excellence and a consistent view of IT investments, and was credit risk director in the firm's Counterparty Risk Management Group. In that role, she was responsible for analyzing counterparties, developing tools to evaluate counterparty risk, and monitoring firm-wide counterparty exposure. Before joining State Street Global Advisors, Fayerberg was a credit analyst at Lehman Brothers, with a focus on financial institutions. She received a B.A. in mathematical economics from Pomona College and an M.B.A, with a concentration in finance, from Columbia Business School.
