

Paul Howanitz, CFA

*Portfolio Manager, Senior Investment Analyst
American Century Investments*

Paul Howanitz, CFA, is a portfolio manager and senior investment analyst for American Century Investments, a premier investment manager based in Kansas City, Missouri. In this role, Howanitz co-manages the U.S. value yield strategy and provides fundamental equity research and analysis for all strategies managed by the large-midcap value team. He has been a member of the team since joining American Century Investments in 2015. Previously, Howanitz was a quantitative research associate and a regional sales rep with MFS Investment Management. Howanitz has worked in the investment industry since 2008. He is a CFA® charterholder and member of the CFA Institute. Howanitz received a B.A. in administrative science from Colby College and an M.B.A. from the University of North Carolina's Kenan-Flagler Business School.