

Pratyasha Rath

Domestic Equity Analyst

Columbia Wanger Asset Management

Pratyasha Rath is a domestic equity analyst at Columbia Wanger Asset Management. In this role, she covers clean technology, industrials, materials, and consumer staples. Previously, she served as director of investment risk and quantitative research at the firm. Before joining Columbia Wanger Asset Management in 2017, Pratyasha was vice president and global macro specialist for Credit Suisse's HOLT®, an equity analysis and valuation tool. Before that, she was a quantitative equity research analyst at Credit Suisse. Pratyasha has been a member of the investment community since 2007. She received a B.A. in economics from Delhi University and an M.S. in finance and risk management from the Illinois Institute of Technology, where she is currently pursuing a PhD in finance.